

HOSPITALITY & CATERING

DID YOU KNOW THAT HOSPITALITY & CATERING CAN LEAD TO ...

Jobs

Chef
Production manager
Research scientist
Toxicologist
Food technologist
Nutritional therapist
Quality manager
Scientific laboratory technician
Technical brewer

"The food industry is one of the largest on the planet, and people will always have to eat. This means if you are working anywhere along the food supply chain, you will always have a job"

Science Meets Food

Skills

- Analytical and problem-solving
- Ability to interpret data critically
- Communication and team work
- Attention to detail and your ability to accurately record results
- ICT through experimental work
- Numerical and statistical awareness
- Time management and research

Higher Education

BSc (Hons) in Food and Consumer Science
BSc (Hons) in Food with Nutrition
BSc (Hons) in Food Safety, Hygiene and Management
BSc (Hons) in Food Science and Technology
BSc (Hons) in Food Manufacture with Marketing
BSc (Hons) in Baking Science and Technology
BA (Hons) in Culinary Arts and Management